

BE ONG

BRAND GUIDELINES

Chores become wins. Wins become good habits.

01 Brand Essence

Friendly motivation for families

Brand idea

Be Ong turns small household tasks into visible progress:

TASK -> GEM -> REWARD -> GOOD HABIT.

The brand should feel playful enough for children, but structured and trustworthy enough for parents.

02 Mascot System

The bee is the primary emotional asset

Bé Ong mascot

Round silhouette, large expressive eyes, rosy cheeks and clear gestures.

Keep the mascot visually separated from yellow surfaces.

Contrast rule

Do not use the same yellow value for face/body and background.

Recommended mascot face: warm cream / light honey.

Use navy/black helmet and stripes to create a strong silhouette.

At 48 px or smaller, simplify:

- checklist rows
- gift details
- wing lines

06 UI Direction

Reward-first, calm structure, big tap targets

Core screen hierarchy

UI rules

1. One dominant action per screen.
2. Gem value is always visually adjacent to the task.
3. Completion uses green; gem/reward economy uses blue.
4. Minimum touch target: 44 x 44 px.
5. Use yellow as a surface/brand field, not for all components.
6. Parent controls should be calmer than child-facing reward screens.

07 App Icon & Illustration

Recognizable first, delightful second

App icon formula

Yellow rounded-square field + Bé Ong mascot + one reward signal.

At small sizes, prioritize face + gem. Remove secondary props if necessary.

Do

- Big friendly face
- Strong navy silhouette
- Blue gem focal point
- Yellow background
- Clear corner radius

Avoid

- Yellow bee blending into yellow
- Too many UI labels
- Thin details
- Realistic insect anatomy
- Aggressive expressions

08 Tone of Voice

Short, positive, action-oriented

For children

DO: "Great job! +20 gems"

DO: "One more task to complete your routine!"

AVOID: guilt, punishment language, long instructions.

For parents

Clear and practical: "Create a task", "Set gem value", "Repeat daily".

Explain progress with calm, factual language.
